Ceduna

Ceduna is a town on the west coast of Eyre Peninsula South Australia. 800 km from Adelaide. The name is derived from the aboriginal word Chedoona. Said to mean a place to sit down and rest. Last major town before crossing the Nullarbor Plain. Ceduna Foreshore Motel accommodation. Reasonable. The foreshore with pine trees. Great spot for eating fish & chips. Local hotel 100 metres away. ID required for takeaway liquor. Even for older people. A huge dust storm enveloped the area when I approached the town.
